Lid that is durable and works

After making soup and frothing coffee for two and half years the original lid was getting a little loose but still sealed well. I bought a new lid for when the old one gives up the ghost. Blendtec make great, durable blenders!

Way better than their first lids

I have been waiting a few years for Blendtec to improve on the legacy lid which leaked and would seal only if it was wet. The new lid holds firmly on the inside and outer sides of the lid perfectly sealing all sides of the jar lip. I recommend these lids to anyone and would buy again.

I love the bigger opening!

Even more than having a bigger opening, I lost the little clear thing for my first top in moving, and it would be quite a bit harder to lose this top! Also, the pieces to this top fit well in the bottom part of the dishwasher, making everything so much easier!

Love my new lid

The old lid which got lost was not as snug fitting. I temporarily used Tupperware lids in the meantime to make do and it always leaked. This new lid fit snugly and I have no more leaks or splatters. No more having to clean up after every blender use.

amazing power

I've only had this blender a wk. Its amazing! I've made "whole food" smoothies each morning. I don't need to cut anything up, remove seeds, or peel anything except in rare cases when unhealthy. This means I get the health benefits that actually grow in these fruits & veggies, their pits, & peels. I can't wait to try making ice cream blends & hot soups. I'd heard these blenders were too noisy, but that's not my experience at all. I love it.

Best Kitchen Appliance Purchase Ever

We LOVE this blender. It puts every previous blender purchase to shame. We purchased it through Costco at a pretty reasonable price which included the wild side jar. Pretty reasonable by pricey blender standards anyway. We debated a lot between Blendtec and a Vitamix, but the features/cost of the Blendtec won out and we haven't had a shred of regret. The blending is thoroughly awesome and the ability to heat things up (like making steamed milk) is easy and efficient. Our smoothies are lighter and better blended without stopping repeatedly to try to scrape the sides down and hand-stir to keep things moving, even those that include solidly frozen items. This was a great investment and after a year we are still very happy.

Life changing ... really!

Got this model about 2 years ago & it's FAN-TASTIC! In addition to soups & green smoothies I make tons of pesto & romesco, small amounts of almond meal all the time, some doughs, tons of fruit &/or vegetable-based condiments ... plus plus plus. So many more vegetable-based dishes now because it's so much easier to precisely & easily process the veg. Inspired by a friend's post on Facebook from 2 years ago that came up as old memory ... read my question to him about high-powered blender, now passing this on to YOU!

Love it! Using it every day!

I bought this from Costco.com in May 2015 for a fabulous wholesale price. The package from Costco included also a Twister Jar. I was skeptical at first because the package still cost significantly more than most blenders out there, but it has turned out to be an excellent purchase! My daughter and I have enjoyed making fruit smoothies, frozen drink, whole juice, etc. DAILY since I bought it! Everything comes out smooth and evenly blended. Very powerful machine but simple to use and easy to clean up. Its blades are truly blunt so you don't accidentally cut your fingers when you clean it up. But I rarely need to even put my hands into the jar; just a drop of soap, some water, and 20 seconds of pulsing are enough to clean it up completely. One inherent issue often found with machines with powerful motor: it's VERY LOUD! I usually must cover my ears while it operates. I wanted to give it a 5-star, but taking back 1 star due to its loudness. Hopefully, Blendtec can sound-proof the motor better in future production?

Powerful! Easy to use!

Very happy with the 750 Pro. A breeze to clean...but don't use a sponge with a scrub pad. It did scratch up the plastic. I wish I knew that first. And also my friend said do not put it in the dishwasher, it will fog the plastic forever. I have had the blender for about 3 weeks now. And I do use it everyday. Con: Still very loud!

Thanks for reading this...!

No Buyer's Remorse

I've had this Blendtec Professional 750 about a month now, and I have no buyer's remorse. Before I made this purchase, I did a bunch of research comparing the offerings from Vitamix and Blendtec, and now I see up-close how well-made and heavy-duty/solid this Blendtec model is. I discovered some of Blendtec's original technologies were ripped off by Vitamix, so that also factored into my choice of brand. I like the different cycles, preprogrammed for different results. I'm impressed and am looking forward to trying new some recipes with it.

Top Quality Blender

Appropriately priced for the quality and performance of this model. This is a heavy commercial-style blender that will break down root vegetables, seeds and frozen fruits into a velvety smoothie and turn itself off in 60 seconds. My only regret is the lineup of inferior blenders that I tried previously.

Best Blender ever

I bought this blended AFTER buying a Vitamix The Vitamix did it's job too but this was a better looking and better built blender in side by side comparison. Love the preset modes and the pulverizing blade. Works flawlessly.
